From the London Papers, Nov. 20.

Bilboa, Oct. 13. The American frigate the Pilgrim, of 38 guns, arrived here the day before yesterday from Salem, from whence she sailed on a cruise above two months ago. Captain Robinson, who commands her, says, that he has made seven English prizes on the coast of Ireland, westward of Cape Clear.

St Roche, Oct. 16. The enemy have continued incessantly every night since the 12th inst. to throw carcasses and grenades, but without effect. It appears that they are beginning to work in their gardens with a design to sow them, and more works are erected on the side of the new quarter. They are continually augmenting their interior works, and using every means to render their situation as advantageous as possible. By the number of their burials every day, we judge that they are not yet free from the disorders which fatigue and want naturally produce.

Paris, Nov. 2. M. de Maurepas, whose health is almost re-established, set out on Tuesday for Versailles, where the King had ordered apartments to be prepared for him, more commodious and nearer to his Majesty than those which he had before at court.

Paris, Nov. 3. By letters which arrived yesterday from Cadix, we learn that all the ships there were preparing to put to sea immediately.—They reckon 32 Spanish ships, 22 French, and a great number of frigates, with eight bomb gallies; nevertheless it is the opinion of those who are generally the best informed, that the Count d'Estaing waits for M. de Guichen, to come back with him, and that all the French vessels will leave Cadix to return to our ports. We read in a letter from an officer on board le Guerrier, that that vessel had very nearly perished by fire in the latitude of Madeira; a barrel of aqua vite took fire between decks, when an intrepid seaman took up the flaming cask, and carried it upon deck with a design to throw it into the sea; but the moment that he got upon deck, the barrel burst in his hands, and burnt him to death.

Paris, Nov. 5. The treatment which M. de Sartine has received from the King, leaves no doubt of his Majesty's being perfectly satisfied with the service which he has rendered the State. It is certain, that this ex-minister retires with a pension of 70,000 livres, 12,000 of which are reversible to his wife, and 6000 to his son. That is not all: The King hath besides granted him a gratuity of 150,000 livres, for the better arrangement of his affairs.

We learn by a letter from Martinico, of the 18th of September, that the English are entirely masters of the sea in the latitude of the Windward Islands. They have attacked and taken some ships even under the batteries of the bay of Port Royal. According to all appearances, they will preserve this superiority great part of the winter.

We have received advice, that out of twelve English merchantmen, laden with provisions at Lagos, in Portugal, ten have entered the port of Gibraltar, and the two others were taken by Don Barcelo's Squadron.

Brest, Oct. 30. The convoys which sailed from Nantz and Cherbourg are arrived here. But six vessels of the Nantz convoy had the misfortune to perish on the coast of Cornwall by the violent winds, but we are informed that the major part of the crews were saved.

Hague, Nov. 11. Last Friday Sir Joseph Yorke presented the following Memorial to the States General.

High and Mighty Lords,

"The King, my master, has, through the whole course of his reign, shewed the most sincere desire for preserving the union, which has subsisted upwards of an age, between his Crown and the Republic. The union is founded on the durable basis of a reciprocal interest; and as it has greatly contributed to the welfare of both nations, the natural enemy of both the one and the other is using his utmost policy to destroy it; and for some time past his endeavours have been but too successful, being supported by a faction that aims at domineering over the Republic, and which is at all times ready to sacrifice the general interest to their own private views.

"The King has beheld, with equal regret and surprize, the small effect which his repeated claims for the stipulated freedoms, and the representations of his Ambassador, on the daily violation of the most solemn engagements, have produced.

"His Majesty's moderation has induced him to attribute this conduct of your High Mightinesses, to the intrigues of a prevailing faction, and he would persuade himself, that your justice and discernment, will determine you to fulfil your engagements towards him, and to prove by your whole conduct, the system formed by the wisdom of your ancestors, which is the only one that can secure the safety and glory of the Republic.

"The answer which your High Mightinesses return to this declaration, which the undersigned makes by the express order of his Court, will be considered as the touchstone of your intentions and sentiments respecting the King.

"For a long time past the King has had innumerable indications of the dangerous designs of an unscrupulous cabal; but the papers of Mr. Laurens, who styles himself President of the pretended Congress, furnish the discovery of a plot, unexampled in all the annals of the Republic. It appears by these papers, that the gentlemen of Amsterdam have been engaged in a clandestine correspondence with the American rebels, from the month of August 1778, and that instructions and full powers have been given by them for the conclusion of a treaty of indissoluble amity with these rebels who are the subjects of a Sovereign to whom the Republic is united by the closest engagements. The authors of this do not even attempt to deny it, but on the contrary vainly endeavour to justify their conduct.

"In these circumstances his Majesty, relying on the equity of your High Mightinesses, demands a formal disavowal of such irregular conduct, which is no less contrary to your most sacred engagements, than to the fundamental laws of the constitution of Batavia. The King demands equally a prompt satisfaction, proportioned to the offence, and an exemplary punishment on the pensioner Van Berkel, and his accomplices, as disturbers of the republic peace, and violators of the law of nations.

"His Majesty persuades himself that the answer of your High Mightinesses will be speedy and satisfactory in all respects; but should the contrary happen;—if your High Mightinesses should refuse to put a demand, or endeavour to elude it by silence, which will be regarded as a refusal, then the King cannot but consider the republic itself as approving of those outrages which they refuse to disavow, and to punish; and after such conduct his Majesty will find himself under the necessity of taking those measures which the preservation of his own dignity, and the essential interest of his people demand.

Given at the Hague, Nov. 10, 1780.

L O N D O N

This morning some dispatches were received at Lord G.

Germaine's office, from Newfoundland, which were brought over in the Tartar armed ship, arrived at Plymouth in 24 days.

It was strongly reported this day at the west end of the town, that an express was arrived from Plymouth, with an account, that a Dutch ship had put in there, the Captain of which said, that he had met a cutter, which was bringing home the agreeable news of the grand fleet having fallen in with, and taken eight ships of Count de Guichen's Squadron.—We wish this may prove true.

The following basis of a treaty of peace is said to be received by the last two mails from Madrid, and believed to be authentic.

In the name, &c.—In order to prevent the further desolation of war, and to stop the effusion of more Christian blood, we the belligerent powers of Great Britain, France, Spain, and the Thirteen United States of North America, being by our Plenipotentiaries assembled at Madrid, have and do hereby agree to the following articles of pacification:

ART. I. That all hostilities cease in Europe on the 15th day of January next, and all captures made in Europe after that day shall be restored; and in like manner such as are taken in the American or African seas after the 15th day of March, and in Asia after the 15th day of July.

* II. That Great Britain shall withdraw her armies and fleets, and for ever renounce all right and title of sovereignty over the Thirteen United States of North America, from Georgia to New Hampshire, both inclusive, and doth and will for ever acknowledge them in full sovereignty, Thirteen United and confederated free and independent sovereign States.

III. Great Britain to restore to France Pondicherry, and whatever she has conquered from her in Asia, as also the island of Lucia in the West Indies, and to give up the island of Cape Breton, with the isle of St Pierre and Miquelon, together with a right to cure fish on the coast of Newfoundland.

IV. Spain to withdraw her troops, and evacuate West Florida, but to remain in possession of New Orleans; and Great Britain to withdraw her forces from Nicaragua, and every other part of the French or Spanish territories which they may have conquered in the course of this war.

V. France to restore to Great Britain the islands of the Grenades, the Granadines, Dominica, St Vincent's, and all their dependencies, in the state as when surrendered to them.

VI. France, Spain, and the Thirteen United States to guarantee all Canada, together with East and West Florida for ever to Great Britain.

VII. It is also agreed by the high contracting Powers, that none of them shall have any retrospect to the desolation made by the war, or have any claim or demand for damages suffered in the course of it; but, on the contrary, they engage to live in amity as good friends and allies, and that their respective ports shall be open to each other for mutual support and assistance in time of need, agreeable to the law of nations.

The following resolves, which were unanimously passed a few evenings ago, at a respectable meeting of the friends of Lord George Gordon, evidently prove they have not forgotten in a trying moment, their suffering President: Resolved, 1.

That as the Protestant petition is presented, that it be recommended to every person, who signed it, not to assemble before the two Houses of Parliament on those days it is taken into consideration, and that they do not wear any mark or badge of distinction.

Resolved, 2.

That on those days on which Lord George Gordon is tried, it be strongly recommended to all his Protestant friends that they neither wear or carry any badge of distinction, but that they shew every mark of respect to the legislative authority of this kingdom.

Resolved, 3.

That it appears his Lordship has stood forth with an unshaken confidence, in defence of that very religion, which the present family on the throne were called to these kingdoms to protect and defend.

Resolved, 4.

That his Lordship has stood up with an unshaken confidence, in defence of that religion which was transmitted to us at the expense of the blood of our ancestors, and as being firmly persuaded that in whatever state or kingdom Popery was permitted to set up her altars, religion and liberty would certainly become the sacrifice.

Resolved, 5.

That his Protestant friends do not forget him in a suffering moment, but will, on the day of trial, afford him the most legal evidence, so far as they have been witnesses of his Lordship's conduct.

Resolved, 6.

That his Protestant friends do not believe he was either the author of, or fomented the late horrid riots, which now, to our joy, and that of all good Protestants and loyal subjects, are happily subsided.

Resolved, 7.

That his Lordship's Protestant friends sympathize with him under his present bonds and imprisonment; nothing but the consciousness of his own innocence, and his suffering in so good a cause, can support him while shut out from human society, and confined in a horrid prison, where scarce any rays of comfort are permitted to enter; and though the evidence against him may seem to sparkle with the shadow of truth, yet they hope, through the wise disposal of human events, that they will disappear as the stars do at the rising of the sun; and that he will soon quit the horrid abode of a prison, and shine forth like the sun from behind a dark cloud with redoubled lustre.

By order of the Chair,

Nov. 8, 1780. L. K. Secretary.

From the London Gazette, Nov. 21.
Commission signed by his Majesty for the army in Ireland.
66th Regiment of foot, Captain Henry Roper, of the 30th, to be Major, vice Theodore Maltaine. Dated October 16. 1780.

INTELLIGENCE FROM LLOYD'S, Nov. 21.
The Free Briton, — the Pomona, — the Yarmouth, — and a brig from Omega and Archangel, were at North Bergen the 14th ult. and did not intend to sail for a fortnight, to avoid two privateers which were then in that harbour, and would sail with the first fair wind; the crews of the Alexander and Beaufort would return in the above ships; the Briton, from Omega for Liverpool, parted company a few days before.

The Earl of Grenville, Welsh, from London to Quebec, is put into St John's in Newfoundland, in distress.

The Sarah, M'Kinley, from St Kitt's to New York, is taken by the Saratoga American privateer, and carried into Philadelphia.

The John and Ann, Johnson, from Jamaica for Liverpool, is totally lost in Carriacou Bay, and all the crew perished.

The Favourite (American brig) with wine, brandy, &c. from Bourdeaux to Amsterdam, is taken and sent into Portsmouth by the Flora frigate, which was left in chase of two others.

Extract of a letter from Madeira, Sept. 20. Last week, came in here, for a few pipes of wine, the Venus French frigate. From her we learn, that she belonged to a squadron of four French and three Spanish line of battle ships, that had conveyed a fleet of 70 sail from Ferrol to the westward of this island, and were then on their return home. Next day, seven or eight sail of the ships came in sight, the joined them, and its reported they were seen two days ago off the westward of the island.

The Hope, Steward, of Glasgow, from Jamaica to London, run on shore near the Bill Point, but is got into Chichester with little damage.

The Fox of London, Captain Veron, has taken and sent into Plymouth the Young Peter, a Prussian vessel, loaded with hemp, from Königsberg to Bourdeaux.

The Margery, Lytle, from Gottenburg, to Scotland, is on shore near Banff.

Part of the cargo of the John and Ann, from Jamaica, lost in Carriacou Bay, is saved.

The Anne and Betty, Scot, from Petersburg, to Leith, said to be arrived, was taken the 14th ult. in lat. 55—52. by the Chaulieu privateer, at 16 four-pounders.

The Tullany frigate, of London, from Jamaica, overtook the 16th ult. lat. 43. long. 46—30. but it is supposed the righted again.

The Friendship, Jackson, from London to Gibraltar, is taken and carried into Cadix.

The Jonge Vrouw Corncliousa, Schut, from Amsterdam to Caracao, is put into Pool to refit, having been seven weeks from the Texel, and split most of her sails.

The Emperor, of London, from Jamaica, foundered the 19th ult.
in lat. 41—30. long. 35. and all the crew (except one man) perished.

The Fox American schooner, from Marblehead for Cadix, with rice, &c. is taken and sent into Portsmouth by the Alert privateer of London.

The Courvette, from Rochelle, for Martinico, with wine, flour, &c. is taken by the Cumberland man of war, and sent into Portsmouth.
This vessel left the grand fleet all well off Cape Finisterre the 6th instant.

Portsmouth, 19. The Prince William, of 60 guns, is dropt down to St Helens. Came into Harbour, the Magnificent, of 74 guns. The Active, of 32 guns, is gone out of harbour to Spithead.

From the London Papers, Nov. 21.

Copenhagen, Oct. 24. Eleven ships of different nations have been lost near the isle of Cornholm in the late hurricane. A Swedish man of war met with the same fate near Carlicron, on its return from the Mediterranean; and we have melancholy accounts of a Dutch fleet coming from Ri-ga.

Paris, Nov. 14. The news of the squadron under the Count de Guichen being arrived at Cadix, with a considerable fleet under convoy from St Domingo, is confirmed.

L O N D O N.

Authentic advices are privately received by the Corps Di-plomatique, that the Count d'Estaing failed from Cadix on the 26th of October, with the fleet of merchantmen for the French ports, from the West-Indies, which arrived there on the 23d; the Comte de Guichen failed with him, and most of his ships, making in all 27 of the line. As our fleet in the Bay, under Admiral Darby, consists of 26 sail of the line, and is cruising for the express purpose of intercepting them, it is more than probable, that there will be an engagement between the two fleets, in which, from the superior condition of our ships having lately left port, and the inconsiderable disparity of numbers, there is every reason to look for success.

Advices have been received by Government of eleven ships of the line, under the command of Admiral Rowley, after having convoyed the Jamaica fleet through the gulph of Florida, having joined the squadron under the command of Sir George Rodney.

This morning some dispatches arrived from Admiral Darby in the grand fleet, which are dated Friday 17th instant, when they remained all well.

Late last night, some dispatches were received at the Secretary of State's office from Lisbon; but nothing new has yet transpired.

The reason of the men of war wintering at Newfoundland, is owing to the great damage they all met with on their passage from Jamaica.

Yesterday a Board of Admiralty was held, at the breaking up of which some dispatches were made up for Admiral Rodney in the West Indies, which were sent off express to Portsmouth, in order to go by Admiral Hood's squadron.

Admiral Hood has received positive orders to sail the first fair wind from St Helens; and is to be joined at Plymouth by two other men of war and two frigates.

By the last letters from Commodore Walsingham we learn, that he is now cruising off Cape Francois, with six or seven sail of the line, being ordered upon that station, after having convoyed the homeward bound fleet through the Gulph of Florida.

Four ships of the line, a frigate, and a sloop, are ordered to be completely victualled at Portsmouth for twelve months, and ready to sail by the 16th of next month; they are copper-bottomed, and it is supposed are destined for the East Indies, and that they will take the Company's ships under their convoy.

Capt. Bateman's trial for disobedience of orders on the 17th of April, came on board the Yarmouth, at St Kitt's, the 2d of August last, but the decision of the Court Martial is not yet arrived in England.

The place of the first Lord of the Admiralty varies in value considerably; the average for the three last years, is 16,500 l. a year. This is a full explanation of the extreme anxiety which the opposition leaders have shown to procure the dismissal of the Earl of Sandwich.

Generals Lee and Gates are both much out of favour with Congress—the French are already obnoxious to the Americans—dissatisfaction is lowered through all the troops—money is not to be had—the poor are oppressed—and as the arms of the mother country are still open to receive the penitent, there is every prospect of a peace being brought about by a general revolt.

In General Arnold's letter to Lord George Germaine, which, it is said, will find its way to the public, he expressly says, that Congress would not be able to stand their ground half an hour, if his Lordship would publicly, and under authority, declare to America the terms that would be given to all the Colonies. Sir Henry Clinton advises the same thing; and it is confidently said, that a declaration will be issued accordingly.

Yesterday, at noon, T —, Esq; brother of a Rebel governor, was apprehended on a suspicion of holding a treasonable correspondence with the court of France, by furnishing the enemy with correct charts and plans of all our coasts and garrisons; he continued under examination before Justice Wright late last night.

To-morrow the Speaker of the House of Commons will issue his orders to the Clerk of the Crown, to make out a writ for the election of a citizen, to represent the city of London, in the room of Alderman Kirkman deceased.

A new writ will also be issued for electing a Burgess for the borough of Plympton, in Devonshire, in the room of Lord Viscount Cranburne, now Earl of Salisbury.

Also for a Burgess for the borough of Tamworth, in the county of Somerset, in the room of Anthony Chamier, Esq; deceased.

Also for a Burgess for the borough of Huntingdon, in the room of Sir George Wombwell, Bart. deceased.

And also for the borough of Launceston, in Cornwall, in the room of Lord Cranburne, now Earl of Salisbury.

Mr Searle, a member of Congress, and a Colonel in one of the Pennsylvania regiments, is now at Amsterdam, negociating with Holland on the part of the Congress.

The last accounts from Madrid mention, that Government having cut down a great number of elm trees, on the estate of the Marquis de San Maure de Aras, for the Royal Naval Arsenal at Cartagena, sent the value of the trees to the Marquis; but that nobleman returned the money, and sent to assure the King, that all the other trees on his estate were at his command, for the public service. The King was so touched with this mark of loyalty, that he wrote a letter of thanks with his own hand.

By an express arrived from Portsmouth, we learn, that the John and Bella transport, Capt. Ayfough, from Goree, was arrived there, after a passage of six weeks, but brings nothing new. At the same time arrived the Favourite, an American brig, laden with wine, brandy, &c. bound from Bourdeaux to Amsterdam, taken by the Flora frigate, who was left in chase of another.

A prisoner is allowed by law but two counsel, on an indictment for high treason, otherwise many young Barristers would be glad to have an opportunity of bringing themselves into notice, in the defence of Lord George Gordon, as many have made interest to be employed for the Crown.

The ballot at the East-India house was going on this afternoon when our paper went to press, with great ardour, and as far as could be gathered, went four to three in favour of the list of Proprietors.

Died, at Eden Plantation, Jamaica, in the beginning of September, Mr Stephen Dunbar, only son to Walter Dunbar, Esq; Forres;—his amiable disposition made him beloved by all his acquaintances, and his death will be justly regretted. It is hoped his friends and relations will accept of this as a notification of his death.

Died at her house, Drumheugh, on Friday morning, the Hon. Mrs Ann Mackay, widow of John Watson of Muirhouse, Esq; Yesterday, died here, Mr Charles Guthrie, writer in Edinburgh.

Thursday se'ennight, William Miller, Esq; member of Parliament for this city, was presented to their Majesties at St James's, by his Grace the Duke of Buccleugh, and most graciously received.

A Correspondent observes, that a capital instance of the inconsistency of modern politicians was exhibited here the other day by the majority of a certain eminent incorporation in this city. On Tuesday fortnight, they were such zealous advocates for economy, that they published a flaming manifesto against the Town-Council, (see our paper of the 8th inst.) for dilapidating a small part of the city's revenue, although clearly in defence of the city's rights;—but whether the vindication of that measure (inserted in our paper of the 11th current) had since convinced them of the propriety of it, certain it is their views of things have so far changed, that, on Tuesday last, they ordered a sum (much greater in proportion to their income) out of the poor's funds of their own incorporation, to pay the electioneering expenses which they had foolishly incurred in defending their own illegal act; although the minority, who were found to be in the right, had previously paid theirs out of their own pockets.

We hope our Correspondent will excuse us for omitting his other remarks upon this subject, as they are rather severe, and bordering upon personality.

The Ticket No. 4554 drawn the fifth day's drawing a prize of 2000 l. was divided by Mess. Richardson and Goodluck amongst thirteen persons; also, Ticket 14,108, drawn the third day a prize of 500 l.—Those disappointed, and who still want their Shares and Adventures, by giving orders to Mess. White and Mitchell, Edinburgh, their agents in Scotland, will have them on return of post from London warranted undrawn, without any addition to the prices they then are at London.

Sir Joseph Pennington, of Warton, was the first gentleman in the East-Riding of Yorkshire, who, such to his honour, took the distressed state of the farmers into serious consideration; and before Michaelmas last determined to put his tenants into such a situation, that they would not only be enabled to pay their rents, but have the joyful prospect of combating the worst of times. He reduced all their unenclosed tillage land (which has long been remarkable for growing the finest barley) to the very low price of two shillings per acre, and their tithe to eight pence per acre, and the rest of his estate in proportion.

The King George, Boyd, one of the London trade, arrived at Leith on Thursday. The rest of the fleet were separated in a gale of wind on Monday.

The Fair Elliot and Thames of Borrowstouness, were lying, wind-bound, at Yarmouth roads, the 15th instant, on their way from London, under convoy of the Leith armed ship.

The Eleanor, Capt Hargrave, a cartel ship from l'Orient is arrived at Harrington, near Whitehaven. By her we learn, that on the 26th past three frigates and two Indiamen sailed for the East-Indies, and 15 armed ships for America. Another fleet of 12 sail were almost ready for America.

Extract of a letter from Kirkwall, Nov. 11.

"The Russian frigate, wrecked on Shetland on the 27th September last, mounted 26 guns, and had 184 men and 6 women on board. The gunner and 4 men were saved. They had been 15 days from Elsinore; parted company with three ships of war the day before their misfortune. The frigate had several barrels of pitch on board, all which have been driven along the coast, and part of them lost. The guns lie sunk in seven fathom water."

Extract of another letter from Kirkwall, Nov. 11.

"On Monday last, was droye on shore, by stress of weather, in the Bay of Cleat, in the island of Wedray, a Swedish sloop, one Paterfon master, loaded with brandy, said to be bound for North Ferri. The cargo, consisting of about 463 ankers of brandy, is mostly saved; but the crew, consisting of seven men, taking to their boat, were all lost. One Mr Taylor, a passenger, who happened to be ashore before the storm began, was luckily saved."

Extract of a letter from Antigua, dated Sept. 27.

"The Rover sloop of war, stationed in the leeward islands, is taken by the Juno frigate, of 40 guns."

Extract of a letter from a gentleman at London, who came passenger in the last packet from New-York.

"The rebel Generals Maxwell, Howe, Sullivan, and Knox, was expected to be in New-York, to join the King's Standard, in a fortnight after we sailed.—An expedition failed down to the Hook after us, under the command of General Leslie.—It consists of about 2500 men, and is intended for James River, Virginia, in consequence of a petition from the principal inhabitants of that province, and North Carolina. There is not a doubt entertained of their success. Should they meet with any opposition, they have permission from head-quarters to take few or no prisoners, but to put all to the bayonet, in retaliation for Major Andree.—The Congress, which now consists only of men of desperate fortune, are all distracted; they know not whom they can trust. A great number of the general and field officers, in the American army, are known to be disaffected to their cause; but they cannot point out the particular persons.—The principal men of the country, who were formerly the greatest rebels, wish for a reconciliation with the mother country; they think the assistance afforded them by the French has been by no means equal to what they were to expect; and that France had done all that she intends to do for them.—The sensible part of them are now very jealous of the French getting too firm a footing upon Rhode-Island; and think they intend, if possible, to keep possession of it, and to send in troops during the winter, when the British cruizers cannot keep out, until they have a body of 20,000 men there, and then they will give law to Massachusetts bay.—The poor people of Rhode-Island already complain heavily of the French troops for their oppressions, in forcing them to sell provisions at any price they think proper, and they even take them often for nothing at all."

From RIVINGTON'S NEW YORK GAZETTE.

New-York, Sept. 14. The ship Lyon, bound from Charlestown to Jamaica, having been taken by the enemy, was happily recovered, and brought to Sandy-Hook by Admiral Sir G. Rodney's fleet.

On board the Spanish ship of war Diligencia, commanded by Don Manuel Ignatius Perez, taken by one of Mr Goodrich's vessels, and carried into the Island of Bermudas, has been found a box of letters, communicating intelligence of a most interesting nature.—Five provinces in the kingdom of Peru, impatient of some new impetus from the Spanish Government, have revolted; the city of Arequipa, second in rank and importance to Lima, is the head quarters of the oppressed, it is situated between Lima and Potosi; all the militia of that country are disaffected, which occasions the most gloomy prospect to the Viceroy, and the servants of the Spanish Crown; the like disposition is apprehended from the large kingdom of Chili, which rebelled, and became extremely formidable to that Government about six years ago. [The above perfectly corresponds with the intelligence found on board the Cologne Spanish packet, which we had the pleasure to communicate to our readers some time ago.]

MEETING of Mess. CRAIGIES CREDITORS.

THE Creditors of Messrs JOHN and LAURENCE CRAIGIE are desired to meet in the Exchange Coffee-house, on Tuesday next the 28th November instant, at one o'clock afternoon. As matters of great importance will be laid before the Meeting, relative to a sale of a considerable part of the Lands, it is requested that the whole Creditors will attend, either by themselves, or their deors properly authorized.

To the CREDITORS of Messrs JOHN and LAURENCE GRAIGIE.

WHEREAS, at a meeting of the Creditors of Mr JOHN CRAIGIE of Kilgrathum, and LAURENCE CRAIGIE of Dunbarrie, held in the month of August last, it was resolved, That those Creditors who had not then brought adjudications, should convey their debts to William Lamdaine writer to the signet; and, failing him, to Hugh Warrender writer in Edinburgh, as trustees; in order that one adjudication might be led in their name for the whole Creditors, with a view to save expence. In consequence of which a draught of the assignment in trust was sent, with a circular letter, to the creditors, or their deors; and sundry of the creditors have executed assignments of their debts, for the purpose above mentioned; but, as the acting trustee may have omitted to send a draught of the assignment to some of the creditors, who may be inclined to adopt this measure, or the creditors themselves may have neglected to attend to it. The trustees, appointed at that meeting, think it their duty to intimate publicly, that they are immediately to raise the summons of adjudication.—Such of the creditors, therefore, who are willing to adopt this measure, will please send their grounds of debt, with the conveyance thereof in favour of the trustees, to the said William Lamdaine, New-Street, Edinburgh, who will furnish such of the creditors with draughts of the assignment, as have not already received the same.

NOTICE TO THE CREDITORS of JAMES MIRA,

Carrier in Whins of Stirling.
SUCH of the said CREDITORS as have not already lodged their grounds of debt, with affidavits on the verity thereof, with Alexander Littlejohn writer in Stirling, are hereby desired to lodge the same with him betwixt and the 22d day of December next, with this certification, That those who fail or neglect to do so, will be cut out of the dividend then to be made of the free balance of his real estate, sold by the trustees for his creditors.

A SHIP WRECKED.

A VESSEL of about 350 tons burden, named the Britannia of Scarborough, Josiah Hutchinson master, from Onega in Russia, for Liverpool, loaded with furs, was put ashore on the coast of Cath-ness, on the 7th instant, and broke to pieces. The master and five of the hands were drowned, and the mate, named Ralph Douglas, with eight others, were saved. They went to a farmer's house close by where the wreck happened, and the farmer took from the mate an order for saving and taking care of the cargo and wreck of the vessel.
In misfortunate cases of this kind, Sir William Dunbar of Hempriggs, Baronet, who is Admiral on that coast, gives his assistance in caring for and bringing things to the best account; and, upon hearing of the above accident, and knowing the inclination of the country people to plunder shipwrecks, he immediately sent his substitute to the place where the wreck happened, to advise the mate what was best to be done, in order, as much as possible, to prevent embezzlements. But, he was much surprised to understand, that the mate of the vessel, in conjunction with the farmer, refused to accept of any advice or assistance from him, by which means great embezzlements must happen, as there is no person in charge of the wreck vested with authority to detect, or send to prison any persons who may have taken it upon them to carry away and secrete the wrecked goods. The mate, being a stranger, has been misled by the first people he fell in with, and, either through ignorance, or from some other reasons, he refuses to inform the names of the persons who were drowned, or the names of the owners of the vessel or cargo, or to whom the cargo was consigned, acknowledging only that she was bound for Liverpool.

Sir William Dunbar is therefore obliged to take this method of letting the owners or insurers of the above ship and cargo know of the above accident, by advertising the same in the Scots and English papers; and to inform them, that, upon application from them, he is ready to examine into the conduct of those that have taken charge of the wreck, and otherwise to give every proper and necessary assistance in the matter in his power.

Letters directed to Sir William Dunbar, Baronet, at Ackerhill Tower by Wick, or to Mr Alexander Miller at Stalcro, by Wick, Admiral Substitute, shall be attended to.

of the deceased Mr JOHN HOPE, late Merchant, Edinburgh, to lodge exact states of their debts with William Lockhart, at Mr Walker's writer to the signet, few of them have yet done so. It is therefore requested, that the creditors will immediately lodge exact states of their debts, mentioning the principal sums and interest due to them, with an oath on the verity thereof, before a Magistrate or Justice of Peace. Such of the Creditors as neglect to comply with this request, will have them-mostly subdivided. It consists of above 763 Scotch acres of good arable land; besides a large moor of 135 acres, and 15 acres 2 roods and 12 falls of green pasture, conform to a plan of the whole made by Stephen Macdougall. There is limestone in most parts of the lands; and, it is believed, there is in some parts coal, as there was lately a going coal adjacent to it; so it is capable of great improvement. There is likewise a great deal of old planting, and a good pigeon-house, neither of which, nor the moor, are valued in the above rental; and the moor, by setting it out to the neighbours around, might yield towards 5 l. Sterling yearly.
